DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRONICS & TELECOMMUNICATION ENGINEERING

General Guidelines for Project / Seminar

- 1.To help the students in planning their projects and getting general advice on the academic programme, the concerned department will assign a Faculty Advisor/Guide to each Group.
- 2.RPC will discuss and recommend the modifications to be done for evaluation and all the submissions.
- 3.Students are required to complete the requirements as prescribed in the evaluation scheme of the programme.
4. There should be atleast 5 -10 Paper referred for the proposed Work.
5. Medium of instruction, Presentation, examination and project/thesis reports will be in English.
- 6.Interaction with your Guide
It is recommended that the projectees should meet the guide regularly during the course of the seminar/project. The Student should maintain a record notebook/file, where a record of discussions with your guide, literature survey details, derivations etc.can be included. Such a system will allow easy and quick access to the details and chronology of your work.
- 7.Departments will evolve modalities for appointing of Guides keeping in view of the students aspirations and faculty interest. The RPC will coordinate this activity.
- 8.No student will be allowed to change the Topic after the synopsis has been submitted to the university for that academic session.
- 9.Students should give Seminar as per Schedule and in required time frame. Do not recite by heart (avoid memorizing your talk) nor read off from the PPT as if reading a text book.
10. Answer questions directly. Do not beat around the bush. If you do not know the answer acknowledge gracefully without display of unnecessary aggression. End your talk with a thank you.
11. Students should submit report drafts as and when requested by your guide.
12. The final responsibility for producing an error-free report lies with the student, and not the guide. Do not copy word to word from published literature.

The purpose of this report is to provide an overview of the competition, including its organisation, participation, highlights, and outcomes.

The Science & Humanities department organised the Public Speaking Competition with the coordination in Students' forum. The event was held on 13th Feb.2023 and it drew a large number of participants from the various sections of the department. The competition was designed to accommodate planned speeches, speaking challenges, giving students the opportunity to demonstrate their abilities in a variety of settings.

First-year B.Tech students actively participated in the competition, demonstrating their excitement and desire to engage in public speaking. Participants represented several disciplines within the B.Tech programme, adding to the competition's varied spectrum of perspectives and issues. The event was open to all first-year students, regardless of prior public speaking experience.

A team of judges comprised of faculty members and communication specialists evaluated the speeches of the participants based on factors such as content, organisation, delivery, language proficiency, and overall impact. Each participant received detailed feedback noting their strengths and areas for improvement. The B.Tech First-Year Public Speaking Competition was a tremendous success, allowing students to hone their public speaking skills, acquire confidence, and promote a collaborative environment. The favourable outcomes of the competition will surely help to the general growth and development of first-year B.Tech students.

Dr. Tasneem Khan, HOD Science & Humanities department has motivated students to perform well in the competition and also congratulated Dr. Abdul Sajid Kazi Club activity in charge along with Prof. Shama Khan for making this activity successful.
